THURSDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 17.

Bond Robbery.

Miner and Carson, the fashionably dressed men who have been in custody in Chicago for several days as vagrants and are to be taken to Boston to answer charges of burglarizing the office of the Roxbury Gas Company, were identified yesterday as the perpetrators of the largest bond robbery on record, the theft of $470,000 in securities from the office of James Young, a New York real estate broker, about 1879. The full amount was recovered, but no direct evidence could be brought against Carson, and Miner escaped from a court bailiff the day before the case came up. It is not thought probable they will again be arraigned for the bond robbery, but will undoubtedly go to prison for their offenses committed in Boston. The story of the bond robbery and the recovery of the securities is in many respects extraordinary. Young's office was on Nassau street. About January 1, 1889, Mr. Young took from a depository a large quantity of bonds to his office for the purpose of cutting off coupons. The bonds were left in charge of a clerk, who, while engaged in cutting off the coupons, was told that a lame man seated in a carriage outside wanted to inquire about some property. The clerk put the bonds on a table and left the room, closing the door, which was fastened by a spring lock. As soon as he had gone two men, who had been concealed on the floor above, but who could see all the movements below, descended, and with a chisel opened the door, grabbed the bonds and escaped by a rear door. They got about $470,000 in railroad, city, and government bonds. From descriptions the detectives were confident Miner, Carson, and Frank Hovan were the thieves, and set a man to watch Hovan's woman. After a vigil of six weeks Hovan's woman left for Petersburg, Va. One of the men followed, and arrested the trio just as Miner was to leave for the north to negotiate the sale of the bonds, all of which were found in his trunk. There was also found a package of $40,000 which had been stolen from a Courtland (N. Y.) bank some time before, and which had been buried in Florida. Carson and Hovan were not identified as participants in the Young robbery, nor was any proof brought against the three for the Courtland robbery. Miner, however, was recognized as the lame man, and was held over. The day before his trial he eluded his keeper, only to fall into the clutches of the law again at this late day.

LEGAL.

VIRGINIA: At Rules held in the Clerk's office of the Corporation Court of the City of Alexandria, on the 7th day of November, 1887, Mary A. Finch vs. The heirs of William J. Cross, whose names are unknown, Charles E. Stuart, and Ruth Stuart, his wife, Richard H. Stuart and — Stuart, his wife, Catharine H. Stuart, Robert L. Stuart, Meta Bolling and Bartlett Bolling, her husband. In chancery.
Memo. The object of this suit is to obtain a degree in the above-entitled cause substituting and appointing a new trustee in the place and stead of Charles E. Stuart, deceased, under a certain deed bearing date on the 20th day of December, 1885, executed by William J. Cross to the said Charles E. Stuart, and directing the trustee so substituted and appointed to convey to the said Mary A. Finch the legal title to a certain tenement and lot of ground situated in the city of Alexandria, Virginia, on the west side of St. Asaph street, between Orion and Princess streets, and fronting on St.
Asaph street twenty feet and running back between one hundred and twenty and one hundred and twenty-three feet, more or less, which was conveyed by the said William J. Cross to the said Charles E. Stuart by the deed aforesaid upon certain trusts in the said deed mentioned and set forth.
The defendants, the heirs of the said William J.
Cross, deceased, whose names are not known, not having entered their appearance and given security, according to the act of Assembly and the rules of this Court, and it appearing by an affidavit that the names of the heirs of the said William J.
Cross are unknown—
It is ordered that the said defendants appear here within one month after due publication of this order, and do what is necessary to protect their interest in this suit, and that a copy of this order be published in the Alexandria Gazette, a newspaper published in the city of Alexandria, once a week for four successive weeks, and posted at the front door of the Court House of this city.

Alexandria Gazette.

The GAZETTE is now the oldest paper in the State, and with few exceptions the oldest in the country, and its usefulness has been demonstrated and appreciated during the EIGHTY SEVEN YEARS of its existence. In its columns has always been found a mirror of passing events, and the careful chron-cling of the history of what is going on in the world has ever been its aim. It is always welcomed in the household, while in the counting room and workshop it has been invaluable.

The GAZETTE has better facilities for obtaining news than any paper outside of the national capital. Situated as it is, so close to the great centre of news, it enjoys daily the benefit of the Associated Press dispatches from every part of the world; hence its patrons can read from its columns in the evening what has transpired that day in every portion of our own domain as well as from every part of the habitable globe.

Consequently it is an every day occurrence for the GAZETTE to publish telegrams from the various European capitals twelve and fifteen hours earlier than the morning papers.

The local department furnishes a full and complete history of everything that occurs in and near the city, and this feature will as ever, receive careful attention.

Correspondence from Washington, Richmond and every section of the State, is published regularly, and all events of interest occurring within the bounds of the Commonwealth are to be found in the columns of the GAZETTE.
